Budget Hearing – The 2019-2020 budget hearing went well. The only cut was a cross-departmental reduction to the education/training line, which for the library went from $4,700 to $2,780. Most of the remaining cuts to the town budget came in capital improvements; the $50,000 to rehire the architect currently remains, though the council will meet tonight for more deliberations.

Town Manager Search – R. LaMonaca met with the two finalists for the town manager position, first at a department heads meeting, and then at the library for a tour. The council has so far not come to a final decision.

New Furniture – New slat wall, for displaying materials, has been installed at Prosser on the ends of the fiction and non-fiction shelf sections. Two new mobile chairs, each with a swinging arm and one with USB power for mobile devices, have been installed at McMahon Wintonbury.

Conversations on Race – The Community Conversation on Race & Racism series continues to be well-received: 50 people attended a Saturday program on 3/23, and 28 people attended a week night session on 4/4. Another session will be held in May.

SeaTea Improv – This season of Spotlight Sunday programs concluded this past Sunday with a performance by SeaTea Improv. 20 people attended and enjoyed the program.

Volunteer Appreciation Reception – This year’s volunteer appreciation reception will be held on 4/23, from 4:30-5:30 PM. Tea and scones, clotted cream, and fruit will be served, and local artist Dolores Howard will display her work and tell her story.

Citizen’s Academy – The town will host another Citizen’s Academy this spring. On May 8th, the library will do a presentation at town hall, followed by a library tour.
